1. The Rumanian people are becoming increasingly more concerned over the possibility of war and rumors are widespread that Rumania is rearming for this possibility. The reaction of the Rumanian people is attributed to the start, in December, of a city-wide campaign to install firefighting equipment throughout Bucharest, the digging of slit trenches near Ploesti, and plans to start the camouflaging of industrial installations. 25X1
2. Rumanians are now being ordered to report to military authorities for possible recall into military service. This is being done through individual notification, and not by public announcement.

3. [redacted] "serious trouble" has developed with the Hungarian minorities in Transylvania and that the possibility of a civil war exists. Rumors are circulating to the effect that the Hungarian border will be extended to Predeal, a town south of Stalin on the road to Sinaia. One point of dissatisfaction to the Hungarians in Transylvania is that they are not permitted to visit their relatives in Hungary and if it were not for the controlling hand of Moscow, war between Hungary and Rumania would have broken out "long ago." 25X1
